

Class B Airspace Change at KPHL (Flying W Seminar)

Effective July 25, 2013 the Class B Airspace surrounding KPHL will be changing. This very important program will provide information on the changes to the airspace and answers as to how these changes could impact certain flight operations. Our special guest, a PHL Tower Quality Control Specialist will be conducting this presentation. This seminar is a must for local area pilots, for your safety and to prevent an inadvertent airspace deviation which could result in a violation. Please click on the link below for more details and to register for this important event!

Directions: Please see map link for directions, meeting will be held in the FBO 1st floor room.
